About the Artist: Cindy lives in Menlo Park with her wife, Kelley and their border collie mix, Murphy. A polymath for the digital age, Cindy majored in applied mathematics as an undergrad, practiced law for thirty years, and now focuses her time on her artistic endeavors.	 Wow I bet this is expensive!

307	You Deserve It!	Wrigley Field 1st Night Game 8/8/88 Poster	Priceless	$75	$10	On August 8, 1988, the Chicago Cubs scheduled the first night game ever to be held at Wrigley Field. On that date, 8/8/88, baseball history was made as the Cubs played for the very first time under artificial lighting. As the game was beginning a thunderstorm developed near the stadium. Those clouds are visible between the lights. Early in the game, rain began to fall and the game was called off. This photograph was taken from an elevated platform across the street from left center field. This photograph is found hanging in many restaurants and offices across the country.

407	Wine & Dine	Four Bottle Lot of Ridge Vineyards Zinfandel / Carignane / Syrah	$170	50	$10	Ridge 2011 Syrah "Good syrah with lots of upside. Dark fruits, violets, hints of espresso and vanilla, with just a touch of pepper. The palate has very good depth, lovely balance, ripe and well integrated tannins, and great overall texture." * Ridge 2014 Zinfandel Paso Robles: Garnet/medium ruby. Intense sun-dried cherry; sweet, defined tropical guava, old-vine pepper spice. Approachable, fruit-forward style. Viscous, smooth-body, coated tannins. Long finish with bursts of juicy stone fruits. * Ridge 2014 East Bench Zinfandel: "100% zin. Really smashing. Different to 14'lytton and Geyserville. More fruit-driven, still good complexity." * Ridge 2014 Geyserville Zinfandel blend: "Bright red fruits, beautiful acidity, and finely structured. The Carignane really stands out at this point (24% of the blend). Killer now but plenty of stuffing for aging."

408	Wine & Dine	Three Bottles of 2013 Robert Biale Reds	$140	$70	$10	The Biale Zinfandel tradition began in the 1930's when Pietro Biale, an immigrant from Genoa, began planting Zinfandel (a variety we now know is from Croatia and a favorite of pioneer California winemakers) on his farm in the town of Napa in 1937. Since that first commercial vintage in 1991 the winery has created a series of a dozen small-vineyard Zinfandels from other historic family vineyards in Napa and Sonoma and, under the direction of new winemaker Steve Hall, has become regarded by collectors, "Zin geeks", authors, wine writers, and sommeliers as among the very finest and most sought after producers of Zinfandel - being dubbed in 2010 by Wine Spectator as Zinfandel Grand Masters. The experts concur: Biale, along with a few select producers, has elevated California Zinfandel to that of internationally recognized status. These fantastic red wines will make your next dinner party complete: 2013 Robert Biale Black Chicken Zinfandel; 2013 Robert Biale Basic Black Blend; and 2013 Robert Biale Like Father Like Son Blend:
409	Wine & Dine	Three Bottles of 2012 Sonoma-Cutrer Vine Hill Vineyard Pinot Noir	$140	$70	$10	The Vine Hill Vineyard is Sonoma-Cutrer's largest and among its most coveted. Its dominating characteristic is the Goldridge soil: sandy, deep and gravelly. As a hillside vineyard at a higher than usual elevation, it has moderate temperature fluctuation and a fog cover that burns off quickly. The soil is perfect for growing Pinot Noir grapes. The Pinot Noir grapes planted here have deep color, elegance and balance. This is a deep, powerful and richly structured Pinot Noir with great length.
410	Wine & Dine	SF Mead Company Tasting, Two Bottles of Mead and Glasses!	$150	$75	$10	SF Mead Company started with the concept of creating a local product and – eventually - a national brand. They strive to buy raw materials, make meads and sell as local to their production as possible. Buying local honey allows SF Mead Company to work closely with beekeepers to ensure that the honey is the purest and highest quality that can be found. SF Mead Company supports beekeepers that are producing honey using sustainable practices and are pollinating organic crops or very remote areas. Enjoy these two bottles of mead, blackberry and wildflower, plus two glasses, and 8 tickets for an upcoming tour.
